

Discussion supported by pizza, from 12:00 to 13:00, Wednesday, Kokomo seminary room (bývalá akademická knihovna).

Victim / volunteer of the Week: 29. June 2016: Conor Redmont about his Ph.D. thesis: Changes in plant-herbivore networks along a gradient of succession at our montane study site in PNG

Then seminars Interrupted, next seminar supposed will be in October.

everybody welcome; <https://www.facebook.com/groups/883740448389631/>

lable

Department of Zoology of the Faculty of Science, University of South Bohemia and Department of Ecology and Conservation Biology, Institute of Entomology, Biology Center, Academy of Sciences of Czech Republic.

Tuesday, February 24, 2015, 13.30

Kokomo seminary room (bývalá Akademická knihovna Biologického Centra)

Matthew H. Van Dam: Environmental niche trackers and niche adapters and

biogeography of sand dunes in the deserts of North America

Joachim Yalang Ficus plants at Mt. Wilhem altitudinal gradient Salape Tulai: Papua New Guinea culture From New Guinea Binatang Research Center

14.10.2015 (Petr Klimeš) Description of animals based on photography only.

<http://zookeys.pensoft.net/articles.php?id=6143>

21.10. F.X.J. Sládeček: presentation of what have been done for the research of community ecology of coprophilous insects.

4.11.2015 Nichola Plowman: Terrestrial ant-plant network along an elevational gradient in Papua New Guinea

11.11. Martin Volf

18.11. Vincent Maicher

20.1. Kryštof Chmel: Summarizing data on avian community from 50 ha forest plot.

27.1. Daniel Souto

2.3. Pavel Šebek

9.3.2016 Chris Dahl

16.3. Kateřina Sam

23.3. Simon Segar

6.4. Jatishvor Singh Irungbam

13.4. Matthias Weiss

20.4. Jan Šklíba: Afro-alpine ecosystem of the Bale mountains in Ethiopia and its charismatic mammals

27.4. Rahim Abdolahi Mesbah, Iran: Geometric morphometry of Adonis ladybird guest from USA, our former student Jiří Hulcr will speak in the board room of the Institute of Entomology on Wednesday 8th June 216.